

NEWS OF SOUTH RICHMOND

ANNEXATION MEETINGS

Chesterfield Citizens Will Confer on Question on Monday and Tuesday

Under the auspices of the committee on annexation appointed by the Chesterfield Board of Supervisors, two important meetings of the citizens in the proposed territory to be taken into the city will be held this week. The first meeting will be held on Monday night at 8 o'clock at Oak Grove, in the new schoolhouse, and the second will be held on Tuesday night at 8 o'clock, in the new Swansboro schoolhouse.

The committee, of which Oscar Swineford is chairman, in a circular issued yesterday, invites all citizens of Swansboro, Oak Grove, Barbours, Atterton, Woodland Heights, West Manchester, Forest Hill and Forest Hill Annex, and the other territory embraced in the lines of annexation to attend the sessions. The subject of annexation will be discussed generally, and any person may give his opinion on the matter. The citizens will also confer on the terms and conditions that they wish to have incorporated in the annexation ordinance.

The people of Chesterfield are somewhat divided on annexation, but from what Squire L. W. Clifton has said yesterday, it appears that a majority favor it. Swansboro, which is the largest suburb around South Richmond, desires to be taken into the city on favorable terms, and it is thought that most of the citizens in Woodland Heights and Oak Grove are of the same opinion.

Many Forest Hill and Forest Hill Annex people are opposed to the plan.

quietly yesterday in Washington. Following the wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Moore will be at home to their friends after January 4 at 808 Decatur Street.

Big Police Docket.

Justice Maurice presided over one of the largest dockets of the season yesterday morning in Police Court. Part of the docket consisted of cases against the offenders of the Christmas season. Among the cases of Sam Jones, colored, charged with setting fire to the stables of W. E. Davis, was continued until January 6. Through his attorney, J. C. Nunnally, the negro secured bail in the sum of $500.

George Burrows was fined $20 on the charge of raising a disturbance in the store of R. L. Sowder. Burrows, who was charged in a counter warrant with assaulting Burrows, was dismissed.

Masons Have Banquet.

Following the annual installation of officers, members of Manchester Lodge, No. 12, Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons, enjoyed a banquet last night in Masonic Temple in celebration of St. John's Day. Covers were laid for 150, and more than that number filled the hall.

In Southside Churches.

Christmas services will be rendered in the Southside churches today. At some of the churches appropriate to the birth of Christ or the new year will be held. At the new year service in Belvidere Street Baptist Church, Rev. John W. Nicholas, the pastor, will preach at both services. Special music will be sung by the choir. Following an organ voluntary, an anthem, "Arise, Shine for Thy Light Is to Come," and an offering, "There Were Shepherds," will be rendered at the morning service. After the Lord's Prayer, the service will be rendered at the morning service. Miss Alice Penick will sing a solo in conclusion.

At the evening service, after an organ voluntary, an anthem, "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," and an offering, "The Fox of the Highest," will be sung.

The following compose the choir: sopranos, Misses Ollie Gregory, Pauline Shelling, Alice Penick and Mrs. A. N. Pettigrew; altos, Miss Grace Brink and Mrs. J. T. Jewett; tenors, R. A. Shultz and William J. Morrisett; basses, W. T. Shultz, C. H. Hensford and director, Mrs. T. E. Burton.

Christmas music will be rendered at the morning service at Meade Memorial Episcopal Church. Rev. Philip A. Archibald will preach the sermon. Members of the choir are sopranos, Mrs. H. P. Vaughan, Mrs. Charles T. Jones, Mrs. E. O. Hill, Miss Ellen Weisberger, Miss Mamie Weisberger, Moore and Miss Louise O'Brien; altos, Mrs. W. R. and Mrs. C. Stadel; tenors, John Garrett, Isaac, W. F. Rex, and organist, Richie R. Bacon. The choir will sing at the morning service. The organist, Richie R. Bacon, will play at the morning service. The organist, Richie R. Bacon, will play at the morning service.

Dr. A. J. Phillips will preach the sermon this morning in Porter Street Presbyterian Church, taking for his subject "The Joyful Life." Rev. Wesley Baker, the pastor, will preach tonight on "The Joyful Life." The service will be given to-morrow night in Ashbury Methodist Church. Special features will be the boy chorus and the "Star Jays."

Sent Back to Reformatory.
Dewey Williams and Robert J. Dunson, two white youths, who were arrested Friday night by Detective J. O. Belcher as being fugitives from the Laurel Reformatory, were sent back to Laurel yesterday by the Southside police. The boys had wandered all night without having anything to eat.

General News Notes.
Mrs. Mary Jampeccolo, who has been visiting her son Joe Jampeccolo, of Hill Street, will leave to-day for her home in South Italy.
The annual school of Meade Memorial Episcopal Church, held last night, with a large crowd present.
The cantata, "Love's Offering," will be given to-morrow night in Ashbury Methodist Church. Special features will be the boy chorus and the "Star Jays."

SERVED WITH PAPERS IN SEPARATION SUIT

New York, December 27.—Frederick Greishneider, estranged husband of a woman, was served with papers in a separation suit yesterday. He called at her home to offer her assistance when he was informed she had left Richmond all night without having anything to eat.

Reading a newspaper of the reported reading, Greishneider called the Westmore by telephone, and was invited to come. He was accompanied by a stranger, he did so. He told Miss Lorraine that he was Greishneider, and he said to the clerk at the hotel, "I am here, with a girl, and I am not a easy mark, you know."

A moment later a trim little maid stepped out of the elevator and presented Greishneider with two envelopes—one identity and the other long and bearing a distinct legal air about it.

Greishneider seized the smaller envelope and glanced at it. He tore it into two pieces and stamped them with the matter. His friend rescued the legal envelope from a similar fate.

"You see," Miss Lorraine said to-night, "I had just prepared this separation suit. Which I heard that he had called. I saw my opportunity, and I cracked the nut. He did not. I do not wonder that he was a easy mark, you know."

The complaint, which charges inhuman treatment and desertion, Miss Lorraine says she treated her with his fists, and told her she would cut off her nose.

Hotel St. Louis and paid for the suit. He started to have papers prepared in a suit for Greishneider and his wife. He will name, according to his statement, two persons, who are familiar figures along Broadway.
